SEPI Engineering Group Lands Spot On Top 100 List
Civil Engineering Firm Ranked Among North Carolina's Top Small Businesses By Business Leader Magazine

RALEIGH, N.C. – Sepideh Asefnia, president of SEPI Engineering Group (www.sepiengineering.com), a firm which provides civil engineering, surveying and environmental design services to private and public sector clients across the southeast, has announced that the company has been ranked on Business Leader magazine's 2009 Top 100 N.C. Small Businesses list. Celebrating the top small businesses in North Carolina, Business Leader magazine's Top 100 List ranks companies based on revenue growth, percentage of business conducted within North Carolina and the total number of employees. A company's community involvement and its participation within industry trends are also considered as a basis for Top 100 selections. All Top 100 winners were recognized at an awards ceremony on June 17 and are featured in Business Leader magazine's special June issue.
